

International Conference on „The Future of Surface Mining“

Call for the submission of conference contributions

We welcome your contributions to this international conference, either as a presentation or a poster. We invite you to present your outcomes from your scientific research and development, your practical experience and applied concepts and, your ideas and visions for the future of open-cast mining on one of the two days, September 16.09.2025 and 17.09.2025 and to make them available for discussion with the participants. Conference languages are English and German on 16.09.2025 and English on 17.09.2025.

Power-point-presentations (.pptx) are welcome as supporting material for your presentations and posters (.pdf) will be shown in an exhibition during both days. Posters can be printed by request by the conference organizers.

You should allow a maximum of 30 minutes for your presentation, including a question-and-answer session.

Depending on the number of registrations, up to three parallel sessions will be scheduled. Please, use the dedicated registration for your intended contributions. We expect your expressions of interest by 31.08.2025 at the latest.

You can ask your questions about your intended presentations and posters here (zukunft-tagebau-2025@tu-freiberg.de)
